

CAMACHO CHRISTMAS 2007

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

December 8, 2007

MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM THE CAMACHO'S (WWW.JESSECAMACHO.COM)

As we look back over the past year we are amazed at how fast the days have gone by. It's so easy for us to forget how God has blessed us just by living our busy lives. This Christmas season, we wanted to take a moment to reflect on this year and how God has blessed us in so many ways. We wish you and your family a Merry Christmas and may God draw you nearer to Him every day.

-- JESSE, ROBIN, JOSEPH, AND NOAH

MY THREE SONS

Ultrasound of Baby Boy's foot 10/31/07

In July, Robin announced that there was at least one more member in the Camacho household. On October 31, Robin and Jesse found out the baby, due the end of March, would be a boy. Jesse is understandably thrilled that God has entrusted him to raise three Godly men. Robin, though somewhat stunned at the idea of cooking for four males in the family, is getting used to the idea of being the "Queen of the Castle" with her hall of knights, and can be heard whistling the theme song to "My Three Sons." We plan to purchase a van in the upcoming months to accommodate the growing brood.

JESSE AND ROBIN

Jesse is still an attorney at Shook, Hardy and Bacon and is enjoying drafting patent applications on all the latest and greatest technologies. He still takes a couple classes a semester at Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He is also a Board Member of the Clay County Election Board, but finally resigned from being Chairman of MO Right to Life. Robin enjoys being a full-time stay-at-home mom since July of 2006. This spring she hit the gym and in the summer, hit her goal weight before entering the first trimester with the new baby. She's still playing volleyball on a women's league and hopes to play right up to the last trimester. Robin continues to be active at church as the room coordinator at the Church Nursery for the infants and crawlers and enjoyed being the volunteer coordinator at Run for a Child to benefit the Rachel House Crisis Pregnancy Center.

JOSEPH AND NOAH

Joseph was very active this year. He played T-ball, took swimming lessons, continued gymnastics, and started AWANA. He still has a very sweet "encourager" personality. In September, He began preschool 3 half-days a week (he can count to 40, knows the months of the year and can almost write his name). Noah is now two and is developing very differently than Joseph. He's rougher and rowdier (probably from standing up to his big brother) and is already talking and stringing together sentences. Both boys get along great, and are looking forward to their new baby brother.

Visit our blog

www.jessecamacho.com

TRAVEL AND LEISURE

In June, the Camachos took a road trip to Kentucky to visit the Creation Science Museum. The museum was a spiral walk through history using science to support the biblical accounts of everything from Creation to dinosaurs to Noah's Ark. The end of September was the family's first trip to Disney World!! Joseph is still asking why we came home from vacation. They were blessed to have gone when the park offered free-meal passes and ate at wonderful restaurants every night while staying on the Disney Property.

September 2007

EVENTS AND HAPPENINGS

--The third annual Independence Day Bash was again a success despite the rain and lightening. This year a new Sidewinder slide was added to our back yard water park. Everyone was, and is, invited so if you didn't hear about it this year, please join us next year!

--Joseph turned 4 on August 12. So in honor of the earlier summer trip to the Creation Museum he celebrated it in dino style. There was a dino dig, a crack-the-rock and find-the-fossil activity and a real live (well mom-made) volcano.

--Just a few weeks after the birthday bash, Robin and her sisters threw her parents, John and Mary, a Fiesta themed 40th anniversary party for 50 of their closest friends. The highlight of the evening was a spoofed "The E! True Hollywood Story" of John and Mary's life. Visit our blog for videos.

--Noah's birthday was more of a family affair due to Robin's serious attack of morning sickness and exhaustion; though she promises to do better next year!